

THE 3RD ANNUAL HARVARD ORTHOPAEDICS GOLF OUTING

The 3rd annual Harvard Orthopaedics golf outing was held on May 25, 2001 at the Sandy Burr Country Club in Wayland, Massachusetts. Among the estimated 100 participants were ten alumni of the Harvard Combined Orthopaedic Residency Program and approximately 20 current faculty members from institutions affiliated with the residency program.

“The annual outing is a great opportunity for residents, attendings, alumni, and other members of the Harvard orthopaedic community to enjoy a day of golf and to continue to strengthen relationships throughout the Harvard Combined Orthopaedic Residency Program,” said Dr. Shawn Hayden, one of the event’s resident organizers.

The day began with a four-person, shotgun scramble tournament, followed by a dinner and awards ceremony. Individual prizes were awarded to Ms. Karen Bernstein for the longest drive of the day, Dr. David Golden for the closest to the pin, and Dr. Lars Richardson for the longest putt. The team competition was won by the foursome of Dr. James Kasser, Dr. David Kim (PGY-6), Dr. David Kim (PGY-4), and Julia Boli-Woodward of Synthes, who finished the day collectively at seven under par. The foursome of Drs. Robert O’Toole, Renn Crichlow, and Thomas Myers, and Joseph Czarnecki “won” the prize for the highest team score, finishing the day at forty over par. Dr. Sean Rassman won the “most etiquette challenged golfer” award. Finally, Dr. Thomas Thornhill won the esteemed and highly coveted Barry Simmons Award for his rather unorthodox pre-tournament preparation.

“The 3rd annual outing was a tremendous success, and we hope that this tradition will flourish in the future,” said Dr. Arun Ramappa, the other resident organizer.

Plans are already underway for next year’s outing. For more information, visit The Orthopaedic Journal at Harvard Medical School’s website at www.orthojournalhms.org.

Celebrating residents

Dr. Thornhill wins the Simmons award

Participants of the 3rd annual Harvard Orthopaedics golf outing.

The winning foursome: Dr. David Kim, Dr. James Kasser,, guest, and Ms. Julia Boli-Woodward.

Worst Golfer's Award